Library's Teen Advisory Board presents "High School 9-1-1" documentary

Erie, PA – The Erie County Public Library, in partnership with the Library's Teen Advisory Board, will present Boomerang Productions Media's award-winning documentary "High School 9-1-1: Never Underestimate A Teenager" on Saturday, June 1, at 1 p.m. in the Hirt Auditorium at Blasco Library, 160 E. Front St.

Director Tim Warren will be available to answer questions about the film and about his own experience as a member of Darien EMS-Post 53.

The event is free for teens and adults, age 13 and up. Registration is not required.

The Teen Advisory Board is hosting the event to highlight the importance of teen empowerment and the positive impact youth can have in building a strong community.

Geoffrey L. Domowicz, disaster program specialist for the American Red Cross of Northwestern PA, will have resources available for teens on how to get involved in emergency response and earn certifications.

Local community agencies are invited to join in the conversation and attend the event. For more information on how to get involved or be a part of the presentation, please contact Tammy Blount, Teen Services Librarian, at teenspace@eriecountypa.gov or (814) 451-6904.
