County Executive Dahlkemper invites public to State of the County address

Erie, PA – County Executive Kathy Dahlkemper invites the public to join her at the Hirt Auditorium at the Blasco Library on Tuesday, Jan. 28, at 7 p.m. to watch her deliver the State of the County address.

Following her presentation, County Executive Dahlkemper will spend approximately 30 minutes responding to questions the public submits to a moderator.

The event will be facilitated by Marcus S. Atkinson, executive director of ServErie.

This is the first time the County Executive will deliver her address in this format.

“It has been my vision as the County Executive to engage our community as often and in as many ways as I possibly can,” County Executive Dahlkemper said. “This new format will create an opportunity for dialogue to occur directly between the community and me about the state of our beloved county.”
